Over Proposed Plan
Monday

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Administration lieutenants in congress were reported today to have rejected a proposal for outright repeal of the neutrality act and to be ready to work instead for legislation making vital revisions.

The repeal proposal was introduced yesterday by Sen. McKellar (D-Tenn.), a consistent administration supporter. McKellar, who told the senate that the neutrality law established a policy which "no great nation like ours can indulge in," said today he had acted entirely on his own responsibility. He added he did not know whether the administration would approve complete repeal of the neutrality law.

F. D. R. Plan Differs, Hint

One well-advised leader told reporters that McKellar's measure was not acceptable to the administration. He said the legislation recommended by President Roosevelt next week probably would follow the lines indicated Wednesday by Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the senate foreign relations committee.

Connally suggested that the neutrality law be amended to permit the arming of American ships and to allow them to enter presently forbidden belligerent ports and combat zones.

Senator Bridges (R-N.H.), meanwhile, told reporters that he favored either complete repeal or substantial modification of the neutrality law.

"I was one of the six senators who voted against it in 1939," he recalled, "and I still don't believe you can legislate peace."

Navy Wastes No Time In Stengthening Defenses

One minute and 23 seconds after launching of the 35,000-ton superdreadnought Massachusetts at Quincy, Mass., the keel of the 10,000-ton light cruiser Flint is laid on the same ways. The Massachusetts, fourth battleship to be launched in recent months under the Navy's big building program, entered the Atlantic seven months ahead of schedule.

NELSON ASKS
PRICE LIMITPriorities Chief Asserts Action Necessary To Balk Inflation

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Donald M. Nelson, federal director of priorities, told congress today that the administration price control bill should be enacted at once to prevent "an inflationary period that will completely destroy us."

The executive director of the supply priorities and allocations board told the house banking committee that he knew of no other method of solving some of the problems created by the defense program.

For that reason, he said, the pending price control measure should be enacted "as rapidly as possible."

"If we are properly to handle a defense program of the size of ours and avoid an inflationary period that will completely destroy us," he said, "we must have some form of price control."

Prior to the hearing, Nelson told newsmen he thought it was too late for adoption of the "universal price ceiling" proposed by Bernard M. Baruch, World War head of the war industries board.

He said he was opposed to Secretary Morgenthau's proposal for the entire question of neutrality of revision with his congressional leaders next Monday and would weigh well their advice on what legislation to recommend.

Chairman Steagall (D-Ala.) asked Nelson about complaints that some small factories had not received much defense business. Nelson said "Small business has been hurt more than it should have been. There has not been enough consideration of the small and medium sized manufacturers in placing contracts. I am sure that the problem must be solved."

P. T. A. AT LEETONIA
WILL MEET MONDAY

A panel discussion by five speakers on "Consumer Education" will feature the first fall meeting of the Leetonia Parent-Teacher association at 8 p. m. Monday in the High school building.

Based on a recent survey of increase of commodity prices in the county made by a committee of adult education teachers, the program will include talks by J. William Koch of Ravenna, district supervisor of adult education; Mrs. Mabel Elizabeth Lang of Cleveland, district nursery school supervisor; Mrs. Mary Clawson of Youngstown, school lunch supervisor; Mrs. Mabel Rothwell and Mrs. Grace Adamson, family life education teachers of Columbiana county.

Porter Aiken of Leetonia R. D. area supervisor, will act as chairman. Special music will be heard during the evening. Refreshments will be served.

MOTORISTS URGED TO GET PERMITS

The office of the Columbiana County Motor club, 740 E. State st., will remain open until 8 p. m. tonight, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday to accommodate motorists who have not yet obtained their new driver's licenses.

The certificates must be in your possession by Wednesday, Oct. 1, if you're going to drive. The cost is 40 cents. Chauffeur's licenses cost 90 cents.

To date the motor club office here has issued approximately 3,500 new permits while it is estimated that probably 7,000 in the district will buy them.

A new ruling this year allows motorists to buy their driver's licenses in any county. Previously they had to get them in the county in which they resided.

HENDERSON SENDS
WORKERS INTO OHIO

"Available Legal Steps" To Be Taken If Necessary,
Says OPACS

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Uncle Sam's long arm will reach into every community in Ohio if necessary to curb rent increases during the defense emergency.

Competent authorities said that the whole state could be classified as a defense area and that this might be done in the establishment of new air rent committees.

On the basis of a control program undertaken by the rent section of Leon Henderson's office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply, half a dozen communities already have selected committees and others will be set up promptly to forestall sharp upward trends in rents.

Stabilization Sought

Even where there is no concentration of purely defense industries, officials said, the government expected to stabilize rents at or only slightly higher than pre-emergency levels.

OPACS has sent representatives into Ohio to aid local communities in setting up additional fair rent committees and to aid in achievement of the objective.

Officials warned that "available legal steps" would be taken to control rents if the committee plan failed. They emphasized that the program was not confined to defense workers, although the first six committees in Ohio were in areas having a great influx of such workers.

These committees are in Ravenna, Warren, Canton, Massillon, Akron. In line with a policy to rely on public opinion to help, Henderson reported recently that landlords in Canton had threatened evictions to prevent tenants from complaining against rent increases.

"The type of landlord who seeks to avoid an impartial investigation of his reasons for raising rents in a time of national emergency by the device of threatening his tenants with evictions is unscrupulous," said Henderson.

Majority Co-operating

He added, however, that the great majority of local real estate boards and landlords was cooperating, particularly in efforts to prevent "exploitation" of householders and roomers in strictly defense sections.

Officials said that surveys and scores of letters of complaint indicated that rapid rises in rents had occurred in some Ohio cities. These are being investigated and Henderson said OPACS expected that fair rent committees would ease the situation in most places.

"Should these methods fail of their purpose," he declared, "it will be recommended that available legal steps be taken to control rents."

OPACS instructed Ohio fair rent committees to review official surveys for their localities and then establish a "fair rent rate" not further back than October 1, 1939.

"Consideration should be given to a date on which rent levels had not been seriously affected by defense activities in the community," said a letter of instructions.

ARMY TO TAKE
38,000 IN OHIOThat's Selective Service
Estimate For Next
Eight Months

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Sept. 26.—Ohio will be called upon to furnish about 38,000 men for military training in the next eight months, state selective service headquarters estimated today on the basis of the war departments prediction that 600,000 will be called by June 30.

Maj. Carl G. Wahl, state mobilization officer, said that the 600,000 figure is in line with the war department's previous estimate that 900,000 selectees will be trained each year.

In the first 11 months of draft operations in Ohio, 44,000 selectees were inducted into the service. About 7,000 others are scheduled to don khaki in October.

The 51,000 Ohioans already called probably will be the last requisitioned from the state this year "unless that national defense picture changes drastically," it was said at state headquarters.

Major Wahl said the proportion of Ohio selectees is slightly higher than the state population would indicate because fewer men have volunteered. The state is credited with 47,147 voluntary enlistments in the army, navy, marine corps and coast guard, including about 10,000 national guardsmen called to federal service.

Selective service officials pointed out that the lack of voluntary enlistments in the state was due not to lack of patriotism but to the industrial demands for trained men for the defense program.

CAPTAIN IS SWEEPED

CLEVELAND, Sept. 26.—District coast guard headquarters was informed today that an unidentified captain of a barge was lost overboard as the tug Chancellor and two barges sought shelter behind Long Point, Ont., in Lake Erie.

The chancellor, which had a disabled rudder, is owned by the Spenton-Dush Fuel Co. The tuglet Tahoma left Cleveland at 3 a. m. to aid the Chancellor.

Antiques Are Attraction
At Lisbon's Fall Festival

LISBON, Sept. 26.—Attracting much attention and comment at the annual Fall Festival sponsored by the Lisbon Junior Chamber of Commerce, is an antique display in the Doran furniture store window, by Max Gard, collector.

The display features an early American fireplace and mantel, with a crane and copper tea kettle over the fire, while a large copper kettle and smaller pans stand on the brightly polished brass andirons. On the mantel stands a clock of ancient vintage, with works operated by weights, while on either side are large pictureque platters with matching teapots.

Nearby in the room setting is a dining table and a drop-leaf table with a setting of antique dishes including a rare piece with three faces, and silver-plated butter and cake dishes.

Also prominently displayed in the collection of relics are a corn grinder, said to have been used by

COAL OPERATORS
PROTEST PRICESSays Run of Mine Rate Too
Low; May Send Group
To Washington

LISBON, Sept. 27.—District coal operators will meet in the Columbiana county courthouse at 8 p. m. next Tuesday to decide whether or not they will send representatives to Washington again to confer with the bituminous coal commission on raising the maximum price for run of mine coal mined in this region.

The meeting will follow one held here last night at which the attendance was small. Officers will be elected Tuesday night.

A committee, representing the district coal operators, went to Washington a week ago to meet with the coal commission which is conducting hearings before fixing coal prices. Members of this committee are C. E. Peterson of Deerfield, Thomas Howells of Salem and J. W. Cunningham of Columbiana.

Operators in the coal district, which includes Columbiana, Mahoning, Jefferson, Carroll and Trumbull counties, claim that the existing $2.67 maximum for run of mine is too low, compared with operating expenses, and that therefore they are unable to make a fair profit.

Atty Joseph Sheban of Youngstown presided at last night's meeting.

Berlin Bulletin Refers to "Remnants" of Marshal Bud-yenny's Army; Russians Holding at Volkhov
River Moscow, Says

(By Associated Press)

Adolf Hitler's invasion armies are preparing for a full-scale winter campaign against Russia, it was indicated in Berlin late today, and simultaneously all citizens and stores in Nazi-occupied Norway were ordered to surrender their wool blankets for use by the German army.

"It is generally recognized now that one cannot figure on the pressure of German troops on the Soviet armies letting up during the winter months," the official German news agency said.

In the field, it was apparent that the Germans were meeting bitter Soviet resistance along the entire 1,200-mile front from Leningrad to the Black sea.

(By Associated Press)

BERLIN, Sept. 26.—German forces mopping up trapped Russian armies east of Kiev so far have taken 574,000 prisoners and the number is "steadily growing" in relentless destruction of the encircled forces, the German high command declared today.

The announcement, made in a special communique and repeated in a war bulletin from Adolf Hitler's headquarters, referred to captured Russians as "remnants" of Marshal Semeon Budyenny's Ukraine forces.

This was the only official report on land operations but the communique said the air force destroyed railroad tracks and armament plants in the regions of Moscow, Tula, a rail center south of Moscow, and Kharkov, center of the industrial Donets river basin in the eastern Ukraine.

Other dispatches said the Russians again were resorting to cavalry in counter-attacks in the southern zone, in coordination with tanks and infantry. In one thrust, they said, the Russians lost 17 out of 40 tanks.

To the north, German soldiers entrenched east of the Dvina river about 300 miles south of Leningrad were said to have beaten off heavy attacks apparently made by the Red army in an effort to ease the pressure on the besieged northern city.

(By Associated Press)

MOSCOW, Sept. 26.—Fighting near the ancient city of Novgorod, which the Red army abandoned a month ago, still is raging with the Russians successfully thwarting all German attempts to cross the Volk-hov river, a frontline dispatch to the Red Star reported today.

Novgorod is about 100 miles south of Leningrad, where the newspaper Red Star, organ of the army, earlier had reported Soviet forces more than matching the German strength, conceded to be increasing despite what were called colossal Nazi losses.

In the most recent German attempt to cross the Volkhov, which flows between Lake Ilmen and the Gulf of Finland, the newspaper said two German battalions were assigned to the task but had to retreat when heavy losses were inflicted on two companies.

A small group which succeeded in crossing was wiped out, Red Star said.

The dispatches located the action only half a mile from Novgorod and said that heavy Russian field guns facing the city had destroyed four German batteries in the past week.

Red Star, again reported an increasing number of Russian counter-thrusts outside Leningrad and said a series of battles had pushed the besiegers back from several advanced lines.

At one point, it declared, Russian forces gained five miles and recaptured four villages.

Red Star said that Russian planes had shot down 324 German fighters on the Leningrad front alone in the course of the 90-day struggle for mastery of the city's skies.

Pierce resistance still is being maintained on the Kiev front, the government asserted, denouncing as a "fresh Hitlerite fake" German claims of hundreds of thousands of Red army captives and 570 tanks east of Kiev.

COLUMBIANA MAN
DIES AT RICE LAKE

COLUMBIANA, Sept. 26.—Word has been received here of the sudden death of Russell Stahl, about 42, of Columbiana, yesterday morning following a heart attack while on a fishing trip at Rice lake, Canada.

Stahl, accompanied by his wife and several other Columbiana friends, had been in Canada for some time.

He had been associated with his father, Curtis Stahl, and a brother, Homer, in the Coal and Builders Supply Co. of Columbiana.

Surviving are his wife, the former Hattie Dickinson, his parents and the brother, all of Columbiana.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

SPEEDING UP THE TRANSFER

This is for women only and housekeepers in particular. It is about the big wind that had all the menfolk talking Thursday and scratching the flying real estate out of their hair. To hear them tell about it, they had a most uncomfortable experience.

So don't hesitate to let them hear you tell about it. How the curtains will have to be washed. How the stuff got into the rugs and all over the floor. What it looked like on the table tops and the bed-spreads. How you didn't get the windows closed in time and how it came in even after they were closed. How it got into the food.

And lay like a dirty blanket in the bathtub. And how much work it's going to take to get it all moved outside again. And how a woman spends most of her life trying to keep the outdoors from getting indoors. And how one ghastly day can speed up the transfer till the task seems more hopeless than ever. And how it's easy to understand why the women who lived in the "dust bowl" a few years back wanted to get out of there—anywhere just so they could keep their houses clean. Be sure to tell them about it, ladies, particularly if they want to know superciliously what you've been doing all day to keep busy.

BACK TO ORIGINAL PREMISES

Demonstration of the general public's ability and willingness to buy defense stamps and bonds helps bolster up the original premise of federal financial manipulation. The premise was that government could and should use its power to stem deflation and, likewise, to curb inflation.

The premise was applied first in the operations of Reconstruction Finance Corp. and thereafter in a variety of New Deal measures to ease credit, prime the economic pump and relieve debtors. A technique of stemming deflation was developed. But now the situation calls for a technique of curbing inflation.

The theoretic means of doing this are fairly well agreed on. When the federal reserve board submitted a report to congress on the danger of inflation last January, it urged that presidential power to devalue the dollar be discontinued; that the power to issue $3,000,000,000 in new greenbacks be discontinued; that the silver purchase program be abandoned; that the federal reserve system be allowed to increase the percentages of reserves which banks must segregate; that reserve requirements be applied to all banks; that future acquisitions of gold be made inapplicable for credit expansion; that more new government securities be sold to private investors; that an increasing amount of government spending be met by taxes instead of borrowing.

Part of the theoretic measures have been tried. The public has been urged to buy bonds, taxes have been raised, new gold has been segregated, and member banks of the federal reserve system have been ordered to increase their reserves. There remain many other curbs that have not been used. It is not reassuring to realize it's a lot harder to forestall a new inflationary binge than it was to decide to deal with the hangover from the previous one.

VICE PRESIDENTIAL STIRRINGS

Only one contestant on a radio quiz program recently could remember who ran with James M. Cox on the Democratic ticket in 1920. That blow to Franklin D. Roosevelt's pride could be absorbed by realizing that probably not even one contestant could have identified William R. King, Levi P. Morton, George M. Dallas and a half dozen others who were successful vice presidential candidates before 1920, or Charles W. Bryan, who succeeded him as the unsuccessful vice presidential candidate in 1924. Incidentally, has anyone heard from John N. Garner lately?

The obscurity of vice presidents is a political phenomenon always good for discussion in the United States. But it has not always been so, and there are signs now that a change may be coming. Henry A. Wallace, though he ran with Mr. Roosevelt as an obscure personality, is being spotlighted as the holder of the vice presidential office; he evidently is being groomed for the presidency by a plan that virtually makes him director of the national defense effort in its economic phases.

The change in vice presidential status is important. It promises to give the nation two executives where there was only one before. Moreover, it promises to revive the spirit of the original Constitution, under which the runner-up for the presidency became vice president. The first half dozen vice presidents were men of great influence. John Adams and Thomas Jefferson, who held the office first, became presidents.

The last vice president to become president, except through the death of a president, was Martin Van Buren, who succeeded Andrew Jackson. The era of obscurity lasted from his day until the day of Mr. Garner, with a brief interlude while Charles G. Dawes made a name for himself. Vice President Wallace may not make the grade, but there is at least this vital difference in the future he faces. He is not being buried in the traditional formality of the office.

GROUNDWORK FOR PROPAGANDA

There is scant time in the midst of combat for thorough analysis of propaganda such as followed World War I, but one thing seems reasonably clear. Unless the seed of propaganda falls on fertile ground, it can't take root. Propagandists are paying particular attention to the condition of their victims.

Perhaps it means something that experimental propaganda in the southern war games called on soldiers in training to escape the misery of maneuvers by trading resistance for a good dinner, a hot bath and rest. Trainees were urged to think of their aching feet and the hardships that lay ahead of them if they didn't surrender. This might be the propaganda line of a real enemy; it suggests that soft living might be the fertile ground for the seeds of propaganda against the United States.

In the case of German and Russian soldiers, the same line probably would not even be tried for the good and sufficient reason that most of them are inured to hardship. Germany's soldiers probably are more vulnerable to the suggestion that they are repeating the futile campaign of the late kaiser and that the tremendous effort they are making will fall ultimately through its own fury.

Germany's inferiority complex, which is the apparent cause of its desire for aggrandizement, is fertile ground for the suggestion that it can win many battles but ultimately must lose the war.

This same suggestion of futility is present in much of the unlabeled propaganda circulating in the United States at large. It is the theme of the Lindbergh opinion. Why fight? Some juicy material is being piled up for the propaganda analysts who will go to work when the war is over. The play for defeatism should get particular attention. It shows a grasp of human psychology that makes the crudities of World War I sound like inscriptions scrawled on a board fence.

THE STARS SAY:

For Saturday, September 27

A LIVELY day with much stirring about, possibly in connection with writings, publishing, advertising or on travel, or other progressive operations where keen insight and swift action count decisively is foreseen. However, there may be some antagonism or opposition from those in power and authority and others may set snares or indulge in intrigue or subtlety.

IF IT IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Those whose birthday it is should have a very lively year, with change, travel, new business and interests incident to this, possibly with agencies, writings, publicity and all literary matters are well augured, although in all affairs superiors, employers or others in important position seem to withhold recognition or advancement. Resort may be had to subtlety, intrigue or other underhand measures, but in tight places elderly relatives or females may be counted upon for advice and encouragement. A keen and shrewd mind and quick action should win out.

A child born on this day should be versatile and resourceful with fine business as well as literary talents. It may be subject to fraud and imposition.

Limit on Profits

Secretary Morgenthau

Appearing before the house banking and currency committee urging speedy approval of the administration's price control bill, Secretary Henry Morgenthau is pictured telling his listeners that all business profits in the U. S. should be limited to 6 per cent of capital investment.

Rubber Bounce Likened To Gas When Confined

(By United Press)

CHICAGO—Science has edged a bit closer toward solving the problem that has baffled it for many years:

"What makes a rubber ball bounce?"

Prof. Eugene Guth of the University of Notre Dame's chemistry department told a learned symposium at the University of Chicago of his findings.

"Stretch a rubber band," he said, "and place it quickly against the upper lip. You'll notice it feels warm."

"But when you keep it stretched a few seconds, then release it quickly and place it to your lip again, it's cool!"

"The generation of heat by the band gives us a clue to the explanation of rubber elasticity. We see that the relation between the heat of the rubber and its compression is similar to that of gas compressed by a piston in a vessel."

The conclusion, Dr. Guth said.

YOUNG EMBROIDERED FROCK

Pattern 4897

It must be simple, it must be distinctive—your new afternoon frock! Anne Adams designs it—Pattern 4897—with very simple lines and unusual soutache braid embroidery. The transfer motif is used at either side of the bodice seam, and braid is easily sewed down to follow its outline. These are complete directions and pattern for the transfer motif with the Sewing Instructor. If you like, omit the braid motifs and turn the high neckline into a front opening which folds back in little revers. The set-in waist band and the twin panels in the front of the skirt give you that slender, lithe look. The three-quarter sleeves are very chic but you may make them short or long instead.

Pattern 4897 is available in misses' and women's sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 takes 3 1/4 yards 39 inch fabric.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coin for this Anne Adams pattern. While plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE NUMBER.

Order the new Anne Adams Pattern Book "post haste"—and be ready for the coming season! This brilliant Fall and Winter edition contains a gift for you in an ACTUAL pattern for a hat and bag set! PLUS—hundreds of original easy-to-sew designs for night and day for work and fun, for schoolgirl, careerist, bride, mother. War relief sewing, gift tips and news about silhouettes, accessories and colors complete this fashion story! BOOK FIFTEEN CENTS. PATTERN FIFTEEN CENTS. BOOK AND PATTERN TOGETHER, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Ann Sothern deserts the "Maisie" characterization, which she popularized, for the role of a song writer in "Lady Be Good", at the State tonight and Saturday. Robert Young co-stars in the romantic lead, with Eleanor Powell, Lionel Barrymore, John Carroll, Red Skelton and Virginia O'Brien in supporting roles.

Two love stories progress in the plot with their musical background of several of the latest song hits. John Carroll as a night-club singer and Miss Powell as a dancer, Miss Sothern and Robert Young as song-writers, carry the romance while Skelton and Miss O'Brien take care of the comedy, and Barrymore, as always, the drama.

Gene Autry's western, "Under Fiesta Stars", which also features Smiley Burnette, Carol Hughes and Frank Darien, will be seen at the Grand tonight and Saturday.

ST. LOUIS—The latest innovation on the Chicago and Southern Dixie lines is a newspaper edited for those who travel by air. The newspaper, a 12-page miniature, contains the name of the airline passenger, with information about flight crews. The passenger's name, where he is going and his business, is printed across the four-column sheet by a patented process.

Invents One-Man Ambulance

A one-man ambulance, designed for use in army camps, large cities in time of bombing and for highway patrols, is pictured on a Washington, D. C., street. It is driven by Alfred Malling of Los Angeles, the inventor, who hopes to sell his idea to Washington officials. The ambulance, which cost $400 to build, is made of a tiny three-wheeled scooter, side car fashion. The car has a speed of 30 miles an hour.

LEETONIA

Joseph Vincent, Route 2, Leetonia, is one of several members of the freshman class at Heidelberg college, Tiffin, to win a place in the school's concert choir.

It is very unusual for a freshman to get into this organization on his first try-out since one or two years experience with the all-college choir is a customary prerequisite.

Vincent was a prominent member of the choral choir at Fairfield Township High school last year.
The Heidelberg choir, already well known for its many successful concert tours, is planning an extensive trip in the east this winter, making appearances at New York City and other metropolitan centers.

Mrs. Walter Tourdot entertained the Washingtonville 500 club at her home in Leetonia on Friday evening. Prizes were awarded to
Mrs. Albert Weikart and Mrs. Merle Stouffer. The hostess served lunch.
Mrs. Clifford Heron will be the next hostess in two weeks.

Morris Reese, Jr., returned to Columbus on Wednesday where he will begin his sophomore year at Ohio State university.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Boston entertained at a family dinner in their home on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs.
Emmett Harrison of Salem, Mr. and
Mrs. Harry Davis and son Wilbur,
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boston and

Chorus Opens Concert Series Here

Pictured are the 34 members of the famous Don Cossack chorus with their director, Serge Jaroff, who will present the first concert of the season for the Northern Columbiana County Concert association at 8:30 p. m. Monday,
Oct. 6, in the High school auditorium.

The association is conducting a weeks membership campaign which will close Saturday. Those who attend the concerts must have membership tickets by the closing day of the drive. Mrs. E. E. Dyball and Miss Mary Bowman, secretary and campaign chairman, respectively, are in charge of the drive. E. S.
Dawson is president of the association and Orein A. Naragon is treasurer.

This year the association is sponsoring an essay contest for junior members, who will submit essays giving their views on the value of the concerts to them and to the community. Essays will be submitted after each concert and prizes will be given in each group for the best-written, and most interesting essay. Information about the contest may be secured from Mrs.
Anthony Wolina, contest chairman.

The other two concerts in the series will be Jan. 19 by Brier Stoller, soprano, and on March 20
by Fray and Braggiotti, two-piano team.

No... there's nothing like this Styl-Flo maple

Silk Production Tried In Florida

MIAMI, Fla.—The shortage of silk resulting from this country's strained relations with Japan and the European War has accelerated a movement to develop South Florida as a great silk-producing center.

Overtures already have been made to the Department of Agriculture for government sponsorship of experiments carried on in the area during the last 41 years by Dr. Thomas de Pamphilis, who believes Florida eventually can supply more than enough silk for the entire nation.

De Pamphilis, who gained his early knowledge of silk-producing methods in his native Italy, came to Florida in 1900 to begin his experiments. By persistent testing in the muck and marl of the Everglades, he discovered that three varieties of mulberry trees—the albar morris, black English and morrettian—would give three times as much silk from butterfly cocoons than had ever been produced.

By 1923 he had 20,000 of these trees under cultivation on a 160-acre tract near Miami, only to see them wiped out four years later by a tropical hurricane.

De Pamphilis' experiments have not been confined solely to the agricultural phase of silk production. He has perfected a method by which the larvae in 100,000 pounds of silk can be killed in two hours at a cost of approximately $250. In Japan, a dozen persons require more than two weeks to kill the larvae in only 20,000 pounds of cocoons.

'TORRIDAIRE'

— DOWN-DRAFT —

CIRCULATING HEATER

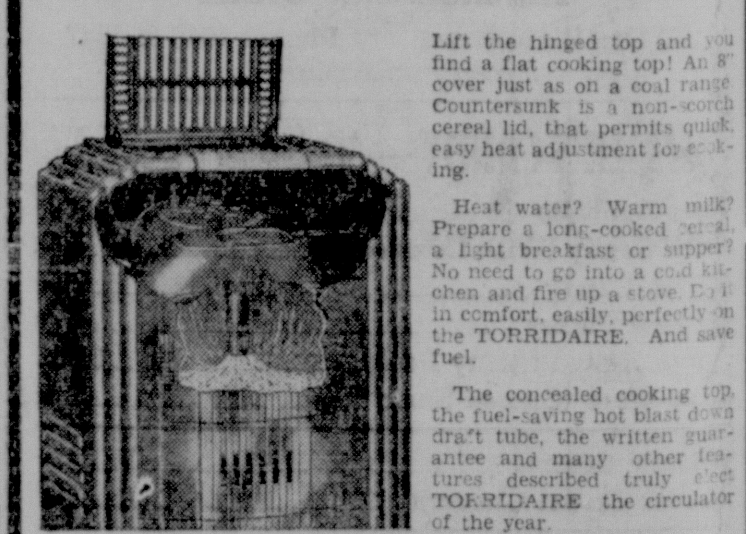

18-Inch Firepot

Completely Installed $59.50

with TON OF COAL FREE

- TORRIDAIRE is not just another circulator with a hot blast tube. The sturdy inner unit, together with the hot blast tube, is especially designed for the most effective results.
- Entire inner unit of cast iron, extra rugged — to withstand severe usage.
- Fire bowl weights on the TORRIDAIRE increased 60% over the ordinary type — TO BLAST DOWN DRAFT TUBE doors fitted to precision air-tightness — easily accessible cooking top — the very thing for heating water, warming milk, preparing a cereal, a light breakfast or supper.
- Great care and much time expended on fitting the non-sag, smooth-swing doors, and casting massive fire bowls of uniform thickness have resulted in a heating unit practically "grief-proof"—all of which is apparent to the consumer on a moment's inspection.
- Porcelain enameled back. Louvers on three sides reflecting heat downward preventing cold and drafty floor.
- All joints interlocked and double-cemented which prevent leaks and drafts and escape of gases.
- Water pan gives comfortably moist, healthful heat. Enamelled to prevent rust, insure long use.
- Machine bolts, instead of light stove bolts are used at points of greatest strain.
- All ash doors have sliding dampers, machine ground.
- Mica fire door, giving open fire cheerfulness.
- Cast iron round reversible collar.
- All these features — such as Enamelled back, Hot Blast Tube and others enumerated are included at our lowest price. In short, there are no "extras".

Lift the hinged top and you find a flat cooking top! An 8 cover just as on a coal range. Counterpane is a non-scratch cereal lid, that permits quick, easy heat adjustment for cooking.

Heat water? Warm milk? Prepare a long-cooked cereal, a light breakfast or supper? No need to go into a cold kitchen and fire up a stove. Dry in comfort, easily, perfectly on the TORRIDAIRE. And save fuel.

The concealed cooking top, the fuel-saving hot blast down draft tube, the written guarantee and many other features described truly are TORRIDAIRE the circulator of the year.

Serge A. Koussevitzky

Unless all members of the Boston Symphony orchestra become affiliated with the American Federation of Musicians, Serge Alexandrovich Koussevitzky, above, well-known conductor of the orchestra, will not be permitted to fulfill his projected two-week engagement as a guest conductor of the New York Philharmonic orchestra next January. Such was the edict handed down by James Caesar Petrillo, president of the federation in New York. According to Petrillo, the Boston Symphony is the only orchestra, large or small, that is not in the federation, which, Petrillo said, covers 138,000 musicians in the U. S. and Canada.

Two Ohio Girls End 3,100-Mile Journey To Coast on Horses

(By Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—Two 22-year-old girls who'd rather ride than eat have completed a 3,100-mile horseback trip from their Upper Sandusky, O., homes to Los Angeles.

Mrs. Myrdred Bickham Binau and Miss Virginia Shumaker never had ridden more than 200 miles before. They came through without a saddle sore, although they wore out a dozen jodhpurs, not to mention several pairs of boots and riding shirts.

They started their trek April 12 and are riding 20 miles more to Santa Monica today to reward their mounts with an ocean swim. Enroute they encountered a few of the hardships met by pioneers of '49, although they followed paved highways.

Once their horses ran away. Another time Mrs. Binau's dapple grey mare, Silver Queen, fell and Mrs. Binau broke her wrist. Crossing the Mojave desert, they miscalculated their time and were without food 40 hours. They forded Oklahoma flood waters.

No Cross Words
They didn't have one cross word although they were together constantly 167 days.

Sometimes they slept in hotels; sometimes they camped out. They spent eight nights under the desert stars.

Near Victorville, Calif., their horses, Silver Queen and Painted Chief, broke away. The girls hunted all night in vain. In the morning, they hired an airplane and the pilot found the horses.

They had three birthday celebrations enroute and they'll have another Saturday, when Mrs. Binau will be 22. Miss Shumaker reached that age enroute and each of the horses became 5 years old since April 12.

The girls believe their ride was the longest ever made by any woman. They'd like to canter back home, but they're going by automobile, starting Monday.

WEST CHESTER, Pa.—A woodchuck wearing the rim of a rusty tin can for a collar was shot by Edward G. Woods. He said the animal apparently poked its head in the can and was unable to remove it.

WINDSOR PLEDGES HELP FROM BRITAIN

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Duke of Windsor arranged a round of official calls today before leaving for a vacation on his Canadian ranch with his American-born duchess.

The duke, who called yesterday on President Roosevelt, two cabinet officers and other government officials, also managed to fulfill an arduous social schedule and make a speech at the National Press club.

Washingtonians received the famous pair with enthusiasm. Everywhere they went, cheering crowds gathered. Police battled crowds in corridors when the duke entered government buildings.

At the Press club, Britain's former ruler, who now is governing general of the Bahamas, gave assurances that "it is the settled policy of the British government to assist the United States to the utmost in providing for the security of their eastern coast line."

"As the West Indies have long been a strategic importance at air bases for attack on this continent," he said, "their effective defense against all aggressors is important for the safety of the American people."

FOUR DIE IN AUTO STRUCK BY FREIGHT

WILLARD, Sept. 26.—All four occupants of an ill-fated passenger automobile met instant death at a Baltimore & Ohio railroad crossing near here last night.

Hours after a freight train smashed the car into a mass of debris, the three young men victims were identified as Henry L. Harman, 26, James F. Faugl, 21, and Jesse W. Hamlin, 22, all of Mansfield, O.

Authorities still sought today to identify the fourth victim—a woman of about 22, unknown to the Mansfield residents who identified the other victims.

The sedan, owned by Harman, was traveling eastward on U. S. route 224 two miles east of here when the locomotive struck and carried it about 200 feet. The three young men were trapped inside and two hours were required to remove them. The young woman's body was found under the automobile.

How to make Pillsbury's Fudge-Spice Cubes!

"Easy-to-bake" recipe:

1. Sift and measure 2½ c. Enriched Pillsbury's Best Flour; add 1½ tsp. soda and 1 tsp. salt; sift three times. (The enrichment of Pillsbury's Best does not affect its appearance, flavor, or matches baking quality, but adds two important B-vitamins and iron you need every day.) 2. Cream 5½ c. shortening; add 1½ c. sugar gradually; cream well. 3. Add 2 eggs, one at a time, beat 1 min. after each. 4. Add 1½ tsp. (5 cc.) unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled; mix well. (This luscious bittersweet chocolate in the batter means rich color and real fudge flavor in your cake!) 5. Add dry ingredients alternately with 1½ c. buttermilk and 1 tsp. vanilla; mix well after each addition; beat well at end. (Did you ever see such light, fluffy batter... such velvety smoothness? Pillsbury's Best always works that way—it's bake-proved for your protection! Every single hour during milling samples of this fine flour are tested to assure an appetizing, creamy whiteness... a baking quality you know is right, no matter when you use it. Moreover, actual baking tests are made four to six times daily.) 6. Turn into greased, lined 12 x 9 x 2 in. loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 40 min. 7. When cold, frost with a spread butter frosting. Cut in squares and stand by for the loveliest, the tenderest, the most unusually moist cake you've ever tasted! Pillsbury's Best is made from only these choice, fine wheats which give you moist, tender cakes that stay fresh... past that golden-topped, even-grained. With Pillsbury's Best, you take no chances. It's the flour you can depend on for everything you bake!

And... in every bag of Enriched Pillsbury's Best... MORE BAKE-PROVED, JURY-PICKED RECIPES FOR YOU!

VALUABLE PREMIUMS... silverware, towel sets, kitchenware, etc., yours for 100¢! STARS, packed with Pillsbury's Best Flour...

Spanish Returned To Mount Program

ALLIANCE, Sept. 26.—Among new courses added to the Mount Union college program this year is the study of Spanish, which is being offered for the first time since it was dropped from the college curriculum in 1928.

Increased interest in the study of Spanish has been evidenced during the past year and it was returned to the curriculum with the opening of the college this fall. Dr. A. F. Engelbert, head of the modern language department, is teaching this subject.

In announcing the offering of this course, Dean Melvin W. Hyde pointed out that present world conditions focused greater attention upon the Central and South American countries, many of which speak a language originating from the Spanish. In addition, the effects of the present conflict upon world trade will call for a greater knowledge of Spanish for the conduct of business with these countries in the years to come.

Dean Hyde stated that "If our leaders of tomorrow are to help in the establishment and continuance of more friendly relations with our neighbors of this hemisphere, they must have a knowledge of the Central and South American countries. Mount Union college is anxious to assist in every way in this program, so necessary for the future of 'our way of living,' and we are glad to announce the establishment of this course in Spanish."

A PENNY² — THAT'S WORTH A HOME RUN!

"You're telling me?—let that penny make a run for my home and show what a big job it does when I buy electricity. The score is more in favor of cheap electricity every inning—because with living costs on the hit-and-run, electricity was never cheaper than today, and its savings and conveniences become more valuable to you."

Bargain Day for Electricity

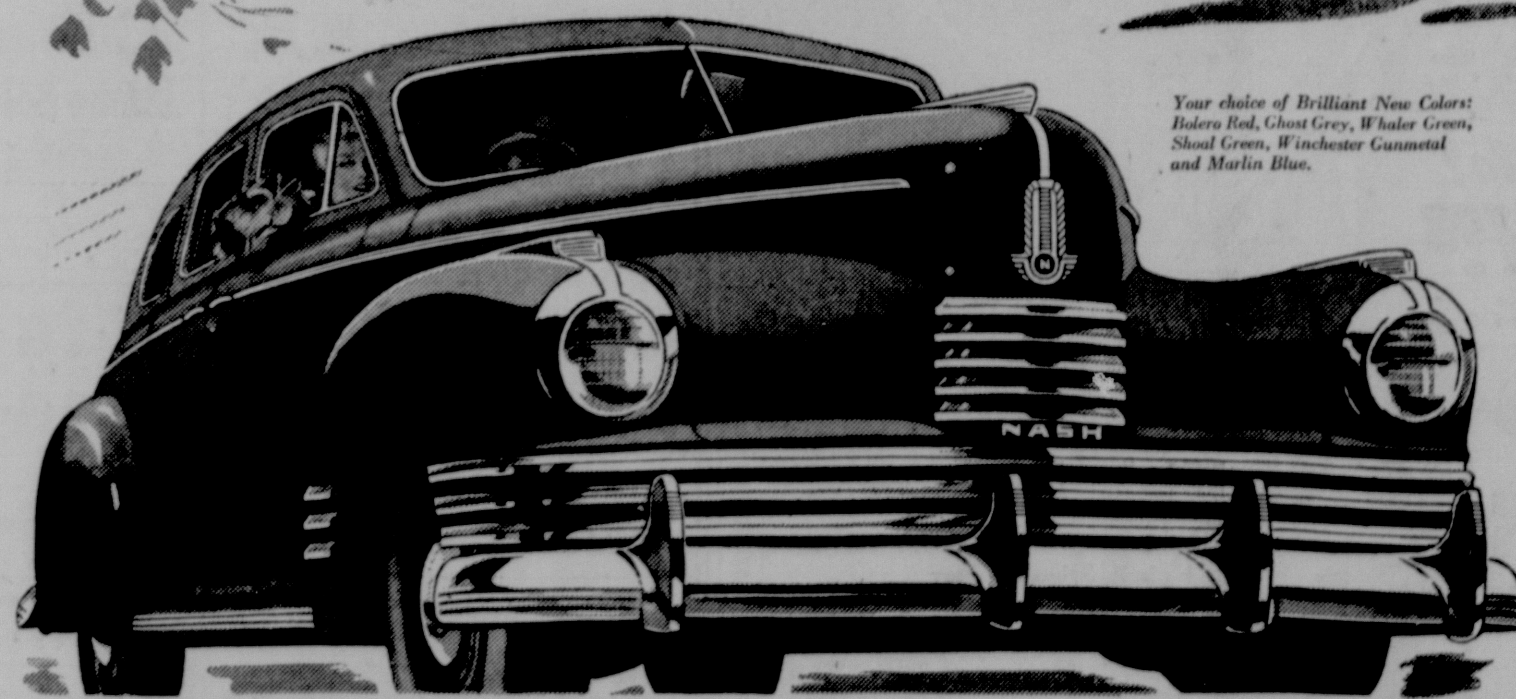

While prices of some things have gone up, it's not true of electricity. Cheap electricity is still your best bargain. Do you know, for example, that you can shave every morning for about two weeks for only one penny's worth of electricity!

Now's the time to buy electrical appliances. You'll be glad you did. Visit the dealers' stores—and ours, too.

CHURCHES SEEK TO GIVE YOUTH MORE TRAINING

Religious Education Week, Sept. 28 To Oct. 5, To Stress Program

(By United Press) CHICAGO — The all-denominational Protestant educational council has announced a religious training program embracing 15,000,000 "unreached" children as the goal of Religious Education week, Sept. 28 to Oct. 5.

The council—officially the International Council of Religious Education representing 90 per cent of all Protestantism in the United States and Canada—already is shaping plans for a four-year United Christian Education Advance. Religious Education Week will be the first step in the campaign.

The council, through its 30 state councils, 60 city councils and 500 county groups, has been studying the problem of the "unreached" in the churches of its 40 denominations since 1928.

The United Christian Education Advance, to begin next February upon the groundwork laid during the Sept. 28 - Oct. 4 week, is protestantism's answer to recent government surveys showing that more than half the school age children in America are still without any form of religious instruction.

Isolated Area, to Come First

The nucleus of the nationwide program, according to the international council's field director, John B. Ketcham of Chicago, will be the establishment of church schools in the most out-of-the-way places in the country.

"The children of the migrants with no home, no school and no church of their own will find a program waiting for them in many places wherever they stop along the 'Oakie trail,'" Ketcham said.

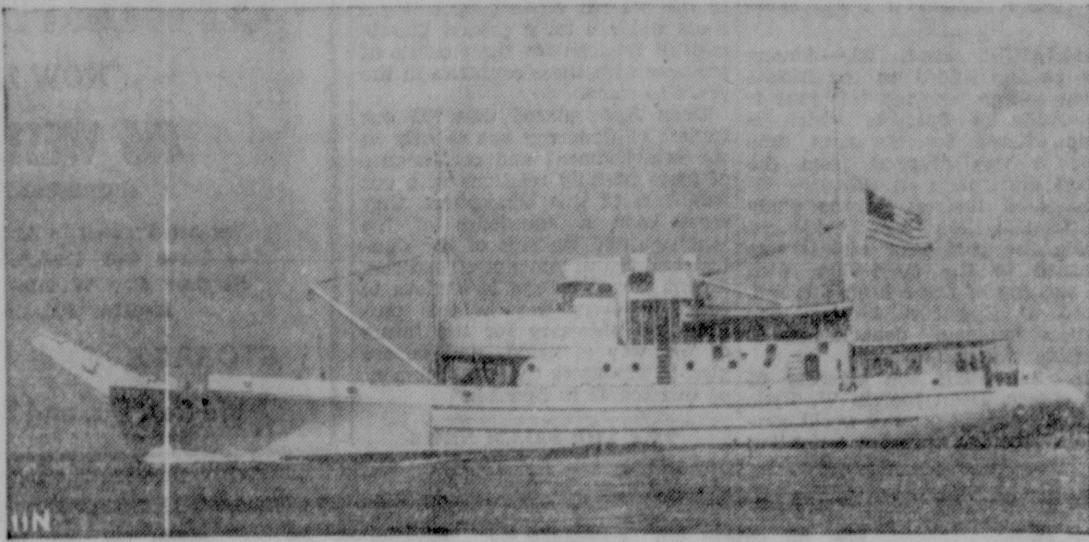

"Children in the tobacco fields along the Connecticut river, in the southern Ohio coal mining area, in the backwoods of Kentucky and from the farms and cranberry bogs of New Jersey—all will find some church school eager to reach them."

Ketcham explained that all Protestant denominations would attempt to "renew the missionary spirit of the church in educational work" during Religious Education week. He said the week's theme would be:

"Christian education as the foundation of our democracy."

"It is only by such a concentration of effort that new religious training units that will be set up to reach the "unreached," Ketcham said. "We expect the program to embrace 15,000,000 children and 1,000,000 adults, now without religious training, and thus to complete the moral rearmament of Americans."

The council's foundation for building new training program of instruction during "released time" in public schools, in Sunday schools, in summer vacation schools, combining work, worship and play, and in thousands of vacation camps where religion is made paramount.

The council through its network of subsidiary organizations has obtained "released time" from the regular school curriculum in 39 states. Council figures show that more than a million young people took advantage of the religious instruction during time freed from public school work last year. Churches will renew their fight for more "released time" in states permitting it and try to extend this idea to the remaining nine states.

The 37 denominations which supported summer vacation schools attended by more than 2,000,000 children in 1941 expect to increase attendance in 1942.

The leadership educational department of the council is training thousands of new leaders for activity in many camps and in Sunday schools, the latter still being the channel which reaches the largest number of young people.

CAMAS HOT SPRINGS, Mont.—Con Malinak was bitten by a black widow spider while killing a rattlesnake. He received the bite on his wrist when he picked up a post to assist two of his boys kill the snake. The poison partly paralyzed the arm before medical attention was received.

BEAUMONT, Tex.—Chester F. Hawkins should be a pretty good pilot when he finishes his army flight training because he is going to get plenty of individual instruction. Young Hawkins was the "entire flying cadet class" when Ellington field, Houston, Tex., opened its first flying class since World war days.

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—Students at Brown university reduced college expenses by $209,678.72 during the past academic year by receiving scholarships, university loans, and by finding work. Dean Samuel T. Arnold reported in a student income analysis.

CHAPTER ONE

September must dropped like a heavy blanket over the North River, this Saturday afternoon. David Farthing sprinted for the 42nd Street ferry, made it. He had promised Jane he would catch the 4:39 from West 42nd to Haverstraw if Slaggen let him off an hour earlier.

David grimaced at the dock hands as he squeezed through the closing doors. He boarded the ferry as it was an ocean liner bound for foreign ports. It wouldn't always be for him and Jane. Some day they would travel around the world after he made a lot of money and when these weary wars had ended themselves out. Meanwhile, there was Atlantic City or Bermuda for a honeymoon. Anywhere with Jane.

He slipped his week-end bag down on the bench of the aft deck. The boat belled. David hurriedly out from his slip, leaving the spangled bulk of city to dissolve in the thickening fog. David snatched his brown felt brim further over his eyes, which were of blue that went with his frank red hair.

A clammy breeze licked his cheeks; throaty river voices tangled in the dusk. David thrust his hands in the pockets of his loose top coat. He could hardly wait to show Jane the tabloid folded in his right pocket. The Roving Reporter's column had his picture, under the question, "Where would you rather be?" The other five chosen salesmen had been lengthy in their views. But David had promptly cracked, "On top."

Perhaps it was the bunk. A fellow got a thrill, though, seeing him in print for the first time.

Jane would get a kick out of it. Or would she? David shivered. He believed in hunches, and he was having one now, without reason. There had been hunches before which led him into trouble, like the time he almost stopped a bullet meant for a cop.

He lit a cigarette, spun the flaming match into the uneasy gray waters below. Away with hunches! A woman came running lightly, without sound. She ran into Farthing like a bird flying blindly out of glaring lights.

Her sport coat winnowed from her slim tailored figure. Her white face stared unseeing past David. She recoiled; dashed for the rail, her gloved hand reaching for it, her body poised to leap.

She was half over, mist swirling around her, when David grabbed her. She gasped. He held her roughly to him her supple coat yielding to his grasp. Beneath its drape, he felt her shrink and tremble.

Her enormous gray eyes looked up at him in terror. David looked down, slowly loosening his grip. What had he seen her before? Thick honey curls twisted from under her beige turban over the tips of her small ears. She exuded the perfume of gardenias. Where—?

"Why did you stop me?" she whispered at last. Her lips parted, heavy scarlet against her pallor. Her gesture was toward the river. "It's the only sure escape."

"You're not taking that way," David declared. He didn't recognize his own voice. He blocked her from the river, loosening his hold. The creepy sense of danger reached his heart; made it pound.

"Why not?" she asked, her chin as stubborn as his.

"Because—I mean it can't be as bad as you think. You don't know."

"I know too much." She shrugged, her eyes meeting his again. In hers, there was infinite weariness. "It's my own fault. I was playing—well, now I feel it is no use, and so I—"

David moved with her, away from the rail, attracting but little attention. He didn't know much about women, he thought wryly; not this kind of woman, svelte, delicately scented, mysterious.... His imagination placed her in the high spots, surrounded by lads in tails, trailing in and out of places he hadn't got around to—yet. She fascinated him.

He faced her uncomfortably. "Look here," he began. "Whatever jam you're in, you're taking the wrong way out. If I can help—"

She was half over the rail when David grabbed her.

She gave him another of her probing stares—bittersweet. "Thank you, nice boy," she said in a low voice. "But I haven't the right. There are no more knight errands. You're in love, of course, with a girl. Oh, I know." She lifted her small gloved hand.

David flushed. "What's that got to do with helping you?"

Then she laughed. If you could call it a laugh; so short, so brittle, dying away in her throat.

"Listen—" David began again. She interrupted quickly. "I haven't time. You offered to help me. First here's my advice. Don't! I might take you up." She shivered. There's treachery in this world today, calling itself other names. You've been kind—very kind. I'm not a lucky person to have anything to do with." He felt as if she had moved closer.

"It can't be so bad," he said. David glanced past her into the cabin. A man and a woman sat in there, side by side, staring out. David and his strange companion were framed in the window; silhouettes in the dusk. Restlessly, he moved his suitcase from the bench. "Let's sit down," he suggested.

She didn't seem to hear. She was fumbling in her handbag. "I'm taking you at your word," she said at last. "Yes, you can help. Take this." She handed him a long red-sealed envelope, doubled in two. "Oh, my dear, I'm afraid, but—I'm trusting you."

David took the envelope; tucked it in his left pocket.

She said quickly, watching him. "Never give it to the police. No—don't look at me like that. I'm not a criminal." Her eyes held his. "You do want to help?"

"Try and stop me." His chin always led him. It hardened with the line of his mouth.

Her voice, was it hysterical? It sounded like little feet on high heels.

"It can't be so bad," he said. David glanced past her into the cabin. A man and a woman sat in there, side by side, staring out. David and his strange companion were framed in the window; silhouettes in the dusk. Restlessly, he moved his suitcase from the bench. "Let's sit down," he suggested.

She didn't seem to hear. She was fumbling in her handbag. "I'm taking you at your word," she said at last. "Yes, you can help. Take this." She handed him a long red-sealed envelope, doubled in two. "Oh, my dear, I'm afraid, but—I'm trusting you."

David took the envelope; tucked it in his left pocket.

racings. "I'll call for it—in a week—if I'm able. Where can I find you?"

"At Slaggen's Sport Shop, Madison Avenue. It's in the telephone book," David said, and hesitated. "I have a room on East 38th Street." He gave her the number.

"You're very kind." She put out her hand. And almost—not quite—the terror subsided, as if she had found warmth at last. She breathed in the damp air, and went on, as if now she were going the whole way. "If you don't hear from me in a week," she murmured urgently, "take the envelope to Richard Z. Garrison. You'll find his address in the telephone book."

"Dick Garrison! the play—I mean—noted sportsman?" David blurted out. Garrison had once come into Slaggen's, and David had waited on him. He was a swell guy, "muss" with the debs.

"The playboy—yes." She seemed to withdraw. "Please be careful," she murmured urgently. The scent of gardenias grew stronger as she leaned toward him. "I tell you—I warn you—if anyone discovers you have this envelope, you'll be in danger—as I am now. You don't know. You think I'm crazy. I wish I were." Her lips brushed his ear. Don't trust—anyone. I did, once.

A crackpot—hysterical, David thought, and felt so sorry for her that he wished he could take her to Jane's mother. Jane would understand. After all, would she?

The ferry was nosing in to Westhawken. He took the woman's arm. She moved along under his guidance, into the stream of people pressing toward the gates. Suddenly, she jerked away from his hand, her eyes dilating upon the couple David had noticed in the cabin. The man and woman walked slowly, letting people pass them. The man turned his head, while his military shoulders carried him on.

"I knew he wouldn't play fair." Her voice was bitten. Before David could stop her, she started away from him, dropping her bag.

"Wait, a minute," David cried. But she retrieved her bag, and vanished in the crowd behind him.

His suitcase hampered his movements. David bent; foraged among feet and skirts. He picked up two objects she had missed: a black enameled compact, initialed C. B. in gold, and a mimeographed pamphlet whose blurred heading was "Americans" and whose italicized first paragraph started with "Warning."

David slid the compact and the pamphlet under the tabloid in his right pocket, felt in his left for the sealed envelope. It was still there. He brushed by many in his rush for the train. Only when he searched his pockets in the smoking car did he discover that the sealed envelope was missing.

LINES TRIMMER IN MOTOR CARS OF NEW SERIES

Quality Remains At Par In 1942 Models, Manufacturers Report

By ANTHONY G. DE LORENZO
United Press Correspondent

DETROIT — Your 1942 model automobile is lower, longer and generally wider; its lines are snappier and it sparkles as much as ever.

You'll find greater use of plastics, particularly on the instrument panel and in the interior decorative pieces. But if you lift up the hood, you'll find few changes from 1941.

Already many replacements have been found for strategic materials needed for defense purposes. Some have been put into the cars, others are being withheld until the pinch of materials shortages becomes more acute.

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., board chairman of General Motors Corp., the nation's biggest producer of cars and trucks, bluntly told his dealers that some of the glamour of the 1942 models may have to be dropped as the defense work increases.

Quality Called Standard

"Although we may have to do away with some of the glamour," he said, "we will not sacrifice any of the fundamental qualities through substitution of materials."

Chief Metallurgist R. H. McCauley of the Ford Motor Co., which has eliminated aluminum entirely from its 1942 models, has emphasized that cars may cost more to build and doubtless will be slightly heavier.

"But," he said, "neither the car nor the truck will contain any inferior substitutes."

The problem of replacing aluminum pistons does not exist for Chevrolet, Plymouth and Ford—the three largest selling motor cars.

Chevrolet has used cast alloy iron pistons since 1912 and doesn't plan to change now. Plymouth has a new, lightweight iron piston. It formerly used one fashioned from cast iron. Ford has made 32,000,000 steel pistons over a long period of years and likewise does not plan to change them.

Nickel Saving Large

Besides eliminating all primary aluminum, Ford reported a 90 per cent saving in nickel and a 70 per cent reduction in use of secondary aluminum. Chrome or carbon steel has replaced nickel in valves, bearings and gears in Ford cars. Steel stampings have replaced zinc die cast parts, such as radiator grilles. Wider use of Amola steel, a high quality alloy steel requiring no imported materials, has reduced use of chrome or nickel steel alloys in Plymouth's basic structural design to less than 14 ounces. Amola was developed by Chrysler metallurgist.

Packard has aluminum pistons in its first 1942 models but is prepared to switch to cast iron pistons as soon as necessary.

Nash reports a 40 per cent slash in gasoline consumption in its "600" series through adoption of the monocoque aircraft construction principle.

C. L. McCuen, General Motors vice president in charge of engineering, believes it's "anybody's guess" when the firm would show its next new models. When they are built, he said, there will be many changes, including greater use of rubber, plastics and of synthetic materials. Use of 100 octane fuel, McCuen believes, will be "general" after the war, yielding more power with greater economy.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 25.—Cleveland associates of David S. Ingalls, Republican national committeeman from Ohio and former assistant secretary of the navy, disclosed today that he may be named to direct the new trans-Atlantic war plane ferry service of Pan-American Airways.

PHILADELPHIA — Workmen of the Philadelphia Electric company had the cooperation of police in staging a mass "Jimmy Valentine" performance. To repair leaks in a gas main, it was necessary to turn off the gas in 100 nearby homes. Residents of eight of the houses were vacationing, so the men expertly forced the doors and window locks and shut off the lines while police stood by.

BOWLING RESULTS

"Chuck" Huffer's 609, totaled from games of 213, 207 and 189, last night led the Smith Creamery to a 2-1 win over the Crescent Machine in the Commercial league. The Smiths in the Crescents hung up a 216 in his third game but it counted for him as the milkmen totaled a 904 to win this fray.

The Jaycee All-Stars, paced by Lowell Brown's 217 and Jones' 205, swept a series of three from the Crescent Machine Jrs. Zimmerman Olds took the Shasteen Service leggers for a three game loss.

Winners of two-out-of-three included: Chisholm's over Trades Class Kelley's Scholans over the Recreation Billiards, and the Amateur Pros over the Ohio Bell Tels.

Electric Furnace League

Three-game winners in the Furnace league last night included the Purchasers over the Draftsmen, and the Transformers over the Office. Shippers took two from the Structuralists, Machinists dited from the Electricians, and the Night Turn A's did likewise with the Night Turn B's.

PORT WORTH, Tex.—Police today sought a thief who entered the criminal court building and robbed a candy stand only a few steps from the sheriff's office. Besides the sheriff who could arrest him, there was nearby the district attorney who could prosecute him, a judge who could sentence him, and the jailors who could lock him up.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Over in Brooklyn they're insisting that it wasn't a hurricane at all that struck Texas—only a concerted sigh of relief from Dodger fans throughout the country when they realized the Bums were safely "in." . . . It wasn't anything compared with the storm that hit Flatbush and its environs last night . . . The Brooklyn Eagle splashed it all over the front page in two words, "we win." . . . Larry MacPhail busted down and cried when Joe Medwick phoned him to congratulate him, but he didn't weaken on his decision that the players had to keep out of the victory celebration planned for tomorrow. So the dinner was called off . . . It's the fans' series anyway. They haven't had one in Brooklyn for 21 years while eight Dodger players and Coach Chuck Dressen have had World Series experience . . . Now instead of "Wait till next year" the boys are hollering, "Wait till next Wednesday."

Cleaning The Cuff

Manager Julian Black figures that about $7,000 of Joe Louis' income will go to pay for three weeks' training at Greenwood Lake although the gate for his camp exhibition covers part of it . . . Notre Dame has banned portable radios and movie cameras at its home games this season . . . Bill (Bob) Spencer, Missouri's crack place-kicker, warmed up the other day by booting 35 in a row, then came back after a breather to kick 36 straight.

Last Laugh

An entry in a pet show at West-hampton, N. Y., the other day was a champion Great Dane, owned by Harkness Edwards and entered by Edwards' eight-year old son . . . When the kid came home proudly displaying the red second-place ribbon, Edwards asked what dog had topped the big fellow . . . "Dog?" replied the kid. "We were beaten by a pig."

Brooklyn Dodgers Clinch Their First Pennant In 21 Years

Fans Not As Happy As Brooks; Rip Off Shirts And Indulge In Creamed Spinach Shampoo

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Brooklyn Dodgers, long the clown princes of baseball, are the new kings of the National league. Long live the kings!

The kids from Kings county, New York (the same as the borough of Brooklyn to everybody except the district attorney) came through in royal glory at Boston with a 6-0 conquest of the Braves yesterday and clinched their first pennant in 21 years.

The St. Louis Cardinals cooperated by losing a 3-1 decision at Pittsburgh to bring the most strenuous championship struggle in recent years to a sudden stop.

As a result of the victory and defeat, the Redbirds were left 2½ games behind the Dodgers with each club having two games left to play.

The standings today:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.	Games Behind	Games Played
Brooklyn	96	53	.651	2	149
St. Louis	96	55	.636	2½	149

Somehow the session at Boston, perfectly played on the part of the Dodgers, seemed like an anti-climax. The Bums had had to battle for every inch in their furious, often frantic, foray against the western clubs of the league and even against the lowly Phillies.

Knew They Were In
In Boston yesterday they knew they were in and were just marking time. But they certainly can keep time. They never missed a beat.

Whitlow Wyatt, their friendly, baldish pitching ace, produced a masterful five-hit performance to achieve his seventh shutout and 22nd victory of the season. His teammates loosed a vigorous offensive which young Pete Reiser climaxed with a two-run seventh-inning homer. The game had been nailed down, however, when Brooklyn baged one run in each of the first three innings.

Max Butcher, a big West Virginia mountaineer who once was with the Dodgers, took care of crimping the Cardinals. He held the Redbirds to five hits, their only run was forced in with a walk.

Both clubs have open dates today—time for the Dodgers to celebrate and for the Cardinals to lick their wounds. Tomorrow and Sunday the Cards clash again with the Chicago Cubs and the Dodgers finish against the Phils.

All along the Brooks have had a hankering to win 100 games, but they acknowledged on their return home last night that they didn't care much about the goal now. Lefty Larry French was scheduled to start tomorrow's contest.

In the other games yesterday the Cincinnati Reds stormed to a 6-0 decision over the Cubs and the New York Giants squeezed to a 3-2 victory over the Phils.

All clubs in the American league were idle.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26—Brooklyn went batty over its new National league pennant today but nobody was nearly as delirious as the Dodgers themselves.

During the four hours it took their special train to make the trip home from Boston last night they steamed up the greatest celebration any baseball team ever has had for the clinching of a championship.

President Larry MacPhail, who had remained here to pass out World Series tickets, set up the party with a telephone call to Boston stocking the train with champagne.

The wheels hardly had started rolling before the corks started popping—and by the time the effervescent entourage pulled into Grand Central station a little before midnight the Dodgers were hilarious and the train was a wreck.

The Dodgers let down their hair and howled—and it was something to behold.

Rip Off Shirts
Somebody thought it would be fine to rip the shirt off Coach Charley Dressen and before his chummy companions were finished they had him almost in the nude. Then they started on each other and more shirts were ripped to pieces within a few minutes than a laundry could do in 10 years.

All the blinds in the dining car were torn down, too.

Pewee Reese and Pistol Pete Reiser prowled up and down the aisles spouting everybody with champagne, until the kids were tipped off that that was something to drink. Then they turned to sham-pooling the porters and waiters with creamed spinach.

This went on for hours and for miles and miles—but you get the general idea.

It was the unbelievable end of an unimaginable four that lasted for two weeks and was more like a traveling circus than a ball club on a business trip.

The whole gang stepped off the train heading into a worshipful welcome from some 7,000 fans who packed Grand Central terminal for a glimpse of the conquering heroes.

"We've Got The Stuff"
Early this fall, Faurot said: "If hustle, drive and a flaming competitive spirit are the elements necessary to make a colorful, entertaining football team, Missouri grid followers are in for a treat this fall. Speed, deception, power and plenty of body-attack will comprise our attack. We're not looking for those blocks and tackles this fall—we're listening for them."

Brown is making no boasts about his team, neither is he worrying. "Either we have it, or we have not," the Buck mentor said, "Saturday will tell the tale."

On tonight's slate are Ohio U. at Youngstown, Detroit Tech at Dayton, Akron at Muskingum, Butler at Xavier, Georgetown at Marietta, Rio Grande at Denison, with Hiram meeting Baldwin-Wallace at Berea this afternoon.

Saturday's tilt take Wooster to Bowling Green, Heidelberg to Otterbein, Bluffton to Kent State, Capital to Valparaiso, Albion to Ohio Wesleyan, Louisville to Cincinnati, Western Michigan State Teachers to Western Reserve, Defiance to Earlham, St. Joseph to Toledo, Mount Union to W. & J., and Wabash to Miami. Sunday calls for De Sales at Canisius.

PICKS LOU NOVA AS BOXING'S NEW HEAVYWEIGHT KING

Talbot Says Contender May Be Floored Early But He'll Come Back

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Sept. 26—Looking back on Joe Louis' fights and recalling the ferocity with which he has torn into the big fellows he could hit easily, practically ruining them with a pair of punches, it takes a lot of will power to pick Lou Nova to win the heavyweight championship from the big Negro.

There is the additional hazard that most "professionals" of the fight game—the men who undoubtedly know the business best—are stringing along with the Bomber. Perhaps a score of managers, trainers and promoters encountered yesterday at Nova's camp virtually were unanimous in believing that the champion would belt Nova out inside 10 rounds when they meet Monday night at the Polo Grounds.

But the writer happens to have had a hunch for a long time that Nova was the one fighter with the physical equipment and the heart required to whip Louis, and there is no sense in backing down now. Maybe he won't, and maybe he will be only another heart-broken heavyweight after he has sampled the Louis dynamite, but it will be after a terrible fight. That much is certain.

In his final workout yesterday, Nova probably looked better than anybody ever saw him. He is as ready as a fighter possibly can be and is punching harder than ever before. He still is absolutely convinced he has the title in his grasp.

Louis will elude him many a time, probably will have him on the floor not long after the bell rings. But the surest thing in the world is that Nova will get up.

QUAKERS UNLEASH NEW OFFENSIVE

Learn Snappy New Plays; Five to Six Thousand Expected Tonight

Between 5,000 and 6,000 people are expected tonight when the Quakers of Salem High take on the Ravens at Reilly field at 7:45. The Quakers will unleash a new revitalized offensive with several recently acquired razzle-dazzle plays.

Officials for the game are: By Morgan, Youngstown, referee; Clarence Elliott, Bergholz, umpire; and George Porter, Lisbon, head linesman.

Here are the starting lineups:
Salem
King LE Griffir
Ruffing LT Worden
Shasteen LG Thomas
Guappone C Webb
Boughton RG Graber
Thomas RT Heiser
Kenst RE DeAngelus
Vilio QB Cubaugh
Scullion LH Trochib
Greene FB Pfeil

ARMAGH, Eng.—With one arm made useless by a bullet, Leading Aircraftman Thomas John Clarke, heeded his way from his burning plane and rescued his unconscious instructor. Now he has been awarded the George Medal for bravery.

NAVY-WILLIAM & MARY: The Tars rate the rod here.

NOTRE DAME-ARIZONA: No punisher but Notre Dame should get Frank Leahy's coaching regime off on the right foot.

MICHIGAN-MICHIGAN STATE: Michigan, minus Tommy Harmon, may find Charley Bachman's veterans a handful. Out of a hat, State.

INDIANA-DETROIT: Tough to figure. Bo McMillin's line is a doubtful quantity but this corner will string along with the Hoosiers.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA-CALIFORNIA STATE: Could be very close. Southern California.

POLO SEASON IS ENDED FOR LOCAL RIDERS AND FANS

Lack of Opposition, Poor Condition of Field Force Cancellation

General Manager Wade A. Loop announced today that no further games are planned this season by the Salem Polo club. Although an All-Star fray was planned for this weekend a general lack of horses and the poor condition of the Salem polo field forced a cancellation.

A game scheduled for later or in the season at Alliance was also cancelled when Owen Lewis, captain of the Alliance squad, announced that his sons, Bill and Merriek, members of the Alliance team, had returned to college and would be unable to play. Further, the boys took most of their father's horses with them and thus incapacitated several willing, but unmounted riders.

Flashy Bill Ossmun, another member of the Alliance team, has also gone back to college, leaving Alliance ranks fairly well riddled.

Successful Season
The season just closed has been, according to Loop, one of the most successful ever enjoyed by the Salem riders. Local enthusiasm, coupled with fair weather on every Sunday there was a game scheduled here, gave the horsemen a financial surplus to carry over into next season.

On the field the team chalked up ten victories to eight defeats. The victories included: Three over Akron, three over Alliance, two over Canfield.

Losses included: Three to Alliance, two to North Hills, one each to Harbor Hills, Zellenople, and Akron.

Beat Darlington
"Six-Goal" Votaw poured through an even half-dozen tallies as the polo club formed a pick-up team to play Darlington Wednesday night under newly installed lights there. The final score was Salem 14, Darlington 5. The lineups:

Smith No. 1 McMillin
Fernengel No. 2 K. Waterson
Murphy No. 3 M. Waterson
Votaw No. 4 Braden

Spare—Duncan (Salem).
Scoring—Salem: Votaw, 6; Fernengel 3; Smith, 3; Murphy, 2; Darlington: Braden, 3; McMillin, 2.
Score by chukkers:
Salem 113 342-17
Darlington 101 101-5

It's Team No. 2 That Has Swede Larson, Navy Mentor, Worried As Opener Nears

Lack of Opposition, Poor Condition of Field Force Cancellation

General Manager Wade A. Loop announced today that no further games are planned this season by the Salem Polo club. Although an All-Star fray was planned for this weekend a general lack of horses and the poor condition of the Salem polo field forced a cancellation.

A game scheduled for later or in the season at Alliance was also cancelled when Owen Lewis, captain of the Alliance squad, announced that his sons, Bill and Merriek, members of the Alliance team, had returned to college and would be unable to play. Further, the boys took most of their father's horses with them and thus incapacitated several willing, but unmounted riders.

Flashy Bill Ossmun, another member of the Alliance team, has also gone back to college, leaving Alliance ranks fairly well riddled.

Successful Season
The season just closed has been, according to Loop, one of the most successful ever enjoyed by the Salem riders. Local enthusiasm, coupled with fair weather on every Sunday there was a game scheduled here, gave the horsemen a financial surplus to carry over into next season.

On the field the team chalked up ten victories to eight defeats. The victories included: Three over Akron, three over Alliance, two over Canfield.

Losses included: Three to Alliance, two to North Hills, one each to Harbor Hills, Zellenople, and Akron.

(By Associated Press)
ANAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 25—It's Team No. 2—not Team No. 1—that's worrying Swede Larson as he preps his Navy pigskin squad for its curtain-raiser here Saturday against William and Mary.

The Middles' senior mentor says his first team will be stronger than in '40—but Navy's strength lies in a two-team system worked effectively with two outfits about equal in strength.

Team No. 2, Larson says, has potentialities but needs leadership—"a spirited pace-setter"—to make it click.

So, the Sailor coach is divorcing the "touchdown twins"—Bill Busk, ace back on the first eleven, and Bob Zoeller, a veteran, flashy end—a successful team in aerial maneuvers last year. He's counting on Zoeller to spark the second outfit.

The reserves must produce under pressure for Navy to hold its No. 3 eastern ranking, Larson says, adding:

"If they don't we won't be as good as a lot of people think we will."

Outstanding players on the second contingent are Zoeller, end; Joe Sliwka, guard; Dick Opp, tackle; and Wes Gebert, Phil Cutting and Clyde Siegfried, a sophomore, back.

Larson isn't concerned about defense. The Middles'll be as hard as a Maryland biscuit. They topped the nation defensively in '40. Flathmann and Chewing, 250 and 220 pounders, are as big, tall and powerful as any pair of tackles.

Offensively, it's different. Larson is out to improve the 1941 attack. He wants to mould an offensive ball club and he knows it'll take time. Last season his charges gained plenty of yardage in mid-field but bogged down near pay-dirt.

Navy's mentor has minimized offensive plays, hoping to effect more precision and finesse and break into the open his ace running backs—Busk, Wes Gebert and Howie Clark.

Besides that trio, he has several good sophomore ball luggers—"Jeff" Davis, Casey Ploszay, Warren Montgomery, Bill Leahy and Siegfried—who are all fancy steppers.

Navy's schedule: Sept. 27—William and Mary here; Oct. 4, West Virginia, here; Oct. 11, Lafayette here; Oct. 18, Cornell at Baltimore; Oct. 25, Harvard at Cambridge; Nov. 1, Pennsylvania at Philadelphia; Nov. 8, Notre Dame at Baltimore; Nov. 22, Princeton at Princeton; Nov. 29, Army at Philadelphia.

Joins Faculty at Mount Union

ALLIANCE—Mrs. Charlotte DeMuth Williams, recently concert-master of the Women's Symphony orchestra in Cleveland and a former soloist with symphony orchestras in Chicago, St. Louis, Philadelphia and New York, has been appointed instructor in violin in the Mount Union College Conservatory of Music, according to an announcement by President Charles B. Ketcham.

A graduate of Oberlin college, Mrs. Williams studied at Leipzig, Germany, under Haus Sitt in violin and Johannes Weidnerbach in piano. She received the year's prize for her study in both instruments.

Mrs. Williams also studied with Henry Marteau in Geneva, Switzerland, where she was again awarded first prize from the Geneva Conservatory.

A teacher at Oberlin Conservatory of Music from 1914 to 1919, Mrs. Williams later was a member of the faculty of the Cleveland Institute of Music. She became well-known in the Cleveland area as a member of the de Ribaupierre quartet for the interpretation of that group of Quartettes of Beethoven and chamber works of Brahms, as they were presented in concerts at the Museum of Art.

Mrs. Williams lived abroad in Paris and Switzerland from 1928 to 1931 and upon her return taught privately in Cleveland.

She received a Bachelor of Music degree at Oberlin in 1902 and the honorary Master of Music degree in 1903. During Mrs. Williams' private teaching in Cleveland, she was selected as concert-master of the Women's Symphony orchestra.

Relaxation Best Cure for Headache

(By United Press)
CHICAGO—"The sick headache," one of mankind's commonest ills, stems from the hard-driving, perfectionist personality and can best be relieved by relaxation, according to study of the ailment by Dr. Harold G. Wolff, a neurologist.

Writing in the Archives of Neurology, Dr. Ward said a recent investigation of patients suffering from migraine or sick headache showed that treatment through almost any form of relaxation reduced attacks from one every two weeks to as few as three or four a year.

The reason why games, short holidays, literature, music or love-making relieve sick headaches, Dr. Ward said, is that migraine literally is an outgrowth of personality—the nervous, ambitious and energetic type.

He found that a number of his patients overcame their susceptibility to attacks by changing their "nose to the grindstone" bent, but that others preferred headaches to changing their ways.

In an analysis of the "perfectionist" personality subject to migraine, Dr. Ward found:

1. The tendency to drive on to a goal, once one had been set.
2. Extreme susceptibility to attacks if interfered with.
3. Frequent studied poses with tense facial expression, furrowed foreheads, quick-moving eyes and uneasy laughter.
4. Inclination to repeat routine acts frequently to be sure they were done.

A business executive was found to be extreme in this regard, performing many of his acts in three, including tying of his tie, combing his hair and turning the pages of a book.

Explaining the physiological reasons for migraine, Dr. Ward said the pressure of a driving personality tends to increase blood vessel diameter and contract muscles of the neck and scalp, affecting the arteries of the head in both cases and causing the headache.

Fellow Workers Induced Alliance Man to Take Tonjon

Never Liked To Be Using Medicines But TON JON Proved Itself Worthy By Helping Him From Beginning. Hopes For Permanent Relief Which He Is Sure TON JON Will Give Him.

MR. AUGUST QUATRADA

Mr. August Quatrada, who lives at 1836 S. Arch Ave., Alliance, Ohio, and is a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church, tells of his remarkable success with TON JON in this statement:

"My back, knees, stomach and bowels have given me a great deal of trouble for the last 6 or 7 years. I had to use laxatives regularly for my bowels or they would refuse to act. My stomach was not functioning normally and I was often bothered with indigestion and flatulence. Gas crowded against my heart causing it to palpitate and making me short of breath. Terrible acid liquids would rise in my mouth and I frequently was bothered with heartburn.

"My back ached fiercely which was very aggravating. My knees bothered me a great deal, causing me to experience much difficulty in walking or any kind of activity. Due to these ailments I was very nervous and rundown.

"The men at the factory where I work urged me to try TON JON and I will always be glad that I found such a marvelous remedy because I am a man who never liked to be using medicines and TON JON helped me from the very start. I have used TON JON only a few days and have already received mighty wonderful results. TON JON is a splendid medicine and I want to tell all my friends what TON JON has done for me. I am going to continue my treatments and feel that upon completion of these I will have acquired permanent relief."

Because TON JON is so safe and reliable, yet is winning hundreds of new friends every day. Give it a chance to help you. Come see the TON JON Health Representative at the Broadway-Lease Drug Store, Salem, Ohio.
